

Communication from Deafblind Scotland during the COVID-19 Pandemic

4 February 2021

Deafblind Scotland has sourced accessible formats for the COVID-19 vaccine information leaflets. We have included your preferred format with this letter.

Nicola Sturgeon has confirmed that the Scottish Government will review the current lockdown at the end of February. They are currently focusing on a staged reopening of schools and early years education.

Remember that Deafblind Scotland is still here to help, please continue to contact us for information and support.
